

Courseware Access Challenges: Solved

Give students seamless access to courseware on day one

Today, courseware access is confusing and hard

From access codes to LMS/VLE integrations, giving students access to required courseware on day one is hard work for everyone involved.

- Stores have to order and manage printed access cards
- Publishers and campus IT are saddled with 4–6 weeks of LMS/VLE integrations to implement courseware
- Instructors have to serve as tech support
- Publishers have high levels of support interactions

- Students get confused, leading to delayed access and missed assignments

Today, institutional LMS/VLE integrations are expected. However, building multiple LMS/VLE integrations for SSO, deeplinking, and grade synchronisation is time-consuming to develop and maintain, often with little to no competitive differentiation for your courseware offering.

Eliminate those headaches with VitalSource

VitalSource offers a single integration point into all Learning Management Systems and Virtual Learning Environments. Instead of hundreds of institutional integrations for each LMS/VLE, you can access thousands of institutions with a single integration. This allows your team focus on what really matters—great learning experiences—while VitalSource handles the rest.
